

Firsts in Wasatch County

The First

The Proof

THOMAS B. WATSON.

This historical and biographical number would not be complete were we to close without saying something of Judge Watson, who for nearly forty years was a conspicuous figure in the public and social life of this county.

He was born in the parish of Dunblenny, Fifeshire, Scotland, September 21, 1844. On March 30, 1863 he married Miss Elizabeth Honeyman, by whom he was the father of five children, eleven grandchildren, and a daughter, four of whom are living—

Thomas H., Wm. D., and David C. Watson of Park City, and Henry F. Watson of Charleston, this county.

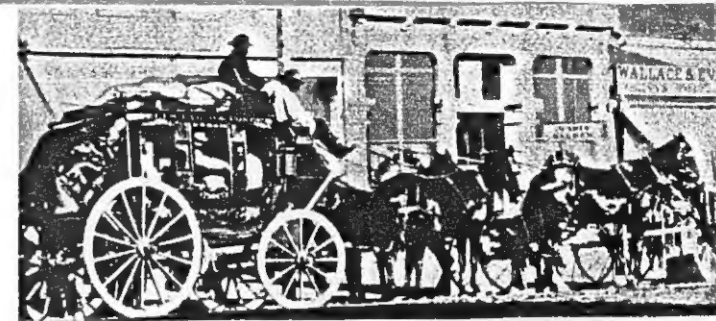

Mr. Watson with his family left Scotland some time in the 60's and came to Heber in 1869. He soon began to gather material around him for a comfortable home. He was young and strong and willing to work, in the field, the quarry, or wherever he could find employment. In those days in this valley all were laborers, few were employers, but "where there's a will there's a way," and Mr. Watson had the "will" and found the "way."

May 28, 1888, his wife was gored by a bull and was found dead in the corral. Fourteen months later he married Jennie Fowles, by whom he had two children—Lindsay P. and Lillian.

In 1884 Mr. Watson was elected Probate Judge of this county, which position he held for ten years. He has held many offices of trust and honor in this county, was messenger in the constitutional convention, and in 1900 was elected county clerk and recorder which position he held at the time of his death, August 16, 1905.

References: "History of Wasatch Co." by William Lindsay, p. 26

R. Raymond Green MD
375 E 2nd North
Heber City UT 84032

THOMAS S. WATSON.

This historical and biographical number would not be complete were we to close without saying something of Judge Watson, who for nearly forty years was a conspicuous figure in the public and social life of this county. He was born in the parish of St. Mary, Evesham, England, Sept. 21, 1844. On March 30, 1863, he married Miss Elizabeth Honeyman, of Park City, Utah. He has four children, eleven grandchildren, eleven great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild. Mr. Watson with his family left Scotland some time in the 60's and came to Heber in 1869. He soon began to gather material around him for a comfortable home. He was young and strong and willing to work in the field, the quarry, or wherever he could find employment. In those days in this valley all were laborers, few were employers, but "where there's a will there's a way," and Mr. Watson had the "will" and found the "way." May 28, 1888, his wife was killed by a bull and was found dead in the corral. Fourteen months later he married Jennie Fowler, by whom he had two children—Lindsay P. and Lillian.

will there's a way," and Mr. Watson had the "will" and found the "way." May 28, 1888, his wife was killed by a bull and was found dead in the corral. Fourteen months later he married Jennie Fowler, by whom he had two children—Lindsay P. and Lillian.

*We will use
S.B. for stage
top*